Making Short Work of It.

In the siege of Troy, Appello encouraged the Trojans to be valiant against the Greeks, by saying: "The mighty Achilles does not fight to-day." It would seem as if death had been bidding disease to make its great inroads upon men, by saying: "Hunt's Remedy is out of the market." But the Trojans found to their cost, that the mighty Achilles came to the field, slew their great est champions, and made short work of the battle. And Hunt's Remedy, as an Achilles against kidney and liver diseases, has taken the field, and is making short work of all such ailments. Hundreds of testimonials from all quarters are coming in as to the the might of this champion medicine. Not surer was the sword of Achilles than is this powerful, yet peaceful, remedy in battle form, as it wages war against dropsy, urin-ary and kidney complaints, and overcomes. It is wise to call in its aid.
